ROBBERS IN SHENANDOAH.—A Woodstock dispatch says: The store and express office at Capon Road Station, Shenandoah county, were entered Thursday night about midnight by burglars, who obtained three packages from the express office, and a quantity of goods and a small amount of money from the store. An hour or so afterwards the store of McCune & Rhoades, at Cedar Creek Station, about two and a half miles north of Capon Road, in which store is the postoffice, was broken into and young Benjamin McCune, who sleeps in the store, being bound with the sheets of his bed, being threatened with death if he made any outcry. While the burglar—only one was seen here—was at work in the store and office, McCune broke the bonds and seizing a pistol from beneath his pillow jumped from a window, and running to the front of the store, fired three times at the burglar, but without effect. About $1,000 in goods, checks, money and stamps were secured at Cedar Creek. A large lot of cigars and other goods taken from the Capon Road store were found near the Cedar Creek store yesterday morning.

A cough which persists day after day should not be neglected any longer. It means something more than a mere local irritation, and the sooner it is relieved the better. Take Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It is prompt to act and sure to cure.

PRINCE OF WALES AS A GUEST.—The Prince of Wales has started on his autumn round of visits, which have the advantage to the public at large that they cause money to circulate freely. He has been staying with Mr. Beckett at Kirkstall Grange, and is due shortly at Lowther Castle as the guest of Lord Lonsdale. At that place he is to occupy the State apartments which were furnished afresh for the Emperor of Germany at a cost of $60,000, and no additional expense in this particular will be incurred by the Earl. But Mr. Beckett, in accordance with the usual custom, furnished, papered and tapestried afresh the rooms occupied by the Prince at Kirkstall Grange, at a cost of $15,000. He is better able to do this financially speaking than Lord Lonsdale, for whereas the latter is generally believed to be very near the end of his tether in money matters, Mr. Beckett is the principal partner in the great banking firm of Beckett & Co., of New York, Leeds and various other Midland and northern cities. Unfortunately the charming mistress of Kirkstall Grange is no longer there to welcome the Prince. She is an American girl, a daughter of William Tracey Lee, of New York, and would have become a peeress had she lived, since her husband is the next heir to the old Lord Grimthorpe. Nor is this the only connection of the Beckett family with America, as one of its members, a great uncle of the present host of the Prince of Wales, married a Miss Lytle, of Philadelphia, who was a granddaughter of James Hamilton, colonial Governor of Pennsylvania under George III.

BISHOP PARET.—Bishop Paret in explanation of why he decided to remain in Maryland instead of going to Washington as Bishop of the new Protestant Episcopal diocese, says: "No one can know the weeks of agonizing doubt and uncertainty through which I passed after it was definitely determined last May to separate Washington from the Maryland diocese. Had the choice been of my own free will and no attempt been made by others to influence my decision, the way would have appeared plain to me. But this was not the case. "Strong pressure was brought to bear upon me from outside the diocese— from some of the members of the house of bishops whom I number among my nearest and dearest friends to make me feel that my work lay in Washington. I cannot tell you all the reasons I had for finally making up my mind to remain in Maryland. "First, I believe it was God's providence that called me to be bishop of Maryland, and even should the law of the church allow me at some future time to consider another field of labor, I could never do so, for my conscience would not allow me to overrule what I consider God's providence. "Second, I feel that I am wedded to the diocese of Maryland. The relation a bishop sustains to his people has often been likened to the marriage tie, and I feel that I ought not to violate its sanctity. This might be true, you say, of Washington also, but the fact remains that this part is the old Maryland diocese, and is entitled to the first consideration."

ROBBERS IN SHENANDOAH.—A Woodstock dispatch says: The store and express office at Capon Road Station, Shenandoah county, were entered Thursday night about midnight by burglars, who obtained three packages from the express office, and a quantity of goods and a small amount of money from the store.
